

Create shell script called (task.sh) which has the following behavior when you run the script it print main menu contains

=====

press i to add new contact press v to view all contacts press s to search for record press e to delete all contacts press d to delete one contact press q to exit

=====

when you press i it ask you to enter Fisrt name, Last name, Email and phone number after finishing save entries in database.txt, then the script ask you if you want to return to main menu press m or q for exit

=====

when you press v it shows you all contacts with all info

after finishing ask you to return to main menu press m or q for exit

=====

when you press s ask you to enter anything related to your search and then print record related to search entry

after finishing ask you to return to main menu press m or q for exit

=====

when you press e script will delete all records

after finishing ask you to return to main menu press m or q for exit

=====

when you press d ask you to enter anything related to your search and then delete record related to search entry

after finishing ask you to return to main menu press m or q for exit

=====

when you press q script terminated

